an evening reception on the 23d inst. The honors of last evening were divided between the dinner, followed by a reception, given by the Postmaster-General to Vice-President and Mrs. Morton and the reception by Senator and Mrs. Manderson to celebrate their silver wedding. At the residence of Postmaster-General and Mrs. Wanamaker the floral decorations were very elaborate, a large number of Easter lilies palms and growing plants being used in the ball-room, while in the parlors the chandeliers were festooned with smilax and vases of cut flowers orna-mented the mantles and stands about the rooms. The centre-plece in the dining room was an ellipsis of ferns studded with long-stemmed Baroness Rothschild roses. Flanking this on the four sides were tall baskets of pink orchids. Two perfect specimens of the roses used in the central decorations tied with rich bows of pink faille ribbon composed the corsage bouquets. The dinner guests were Vice-President and Mrs. Morton, Mrs. Russell Har-rison, Minister and Mme. Romero, Sir Julian and Lady Pauncefote, Senator and Mrs. Edmunds, Governor and Mrs. Curtin, Representative and Mrs. Cabot Lodge, Mr. and Mrs. John McLean, Senator Allison, Miss Petitt of Philadelphia, Postmaster-General and Mrs. Wanamaker, Miss Wanamaker, At 9:30 the dinner was followed by a reception, at which several hundred guests were present. Mrs. Morton assisted Mrs. Wanamaker in receiving. The hostess were a Worth gown of heliotrope brocade, with old point de Venice and diamonds. Miss Wanamaker's gown was of rose pink tulle dotted with artificial daisies.

Senator and Mrs. Manderson's reception was in the nature of an ovation from their friends who remem bered the happy occasion with beautiful presents of every description. Among the most elegant were some valuable pieces of plate from the Senator's colleagues. The rooms were dec-orated with the floral offerings sent during the day by various friends. Sen-ator and Mrs. Manderson stood to gether to receive their guests, the latter in a handsome gown of silver gray brocade with diamond ornaments. The only person present who had been among those who witnessed the marriage just twenty-five years before at Canton, Ohio, was Mrs. Manderson's mother, Mrs. Brown of Nebraska, who makes Mrs. Brown of Nebraska, who makes her home with her daughter. Mrs. Anson G. McCook, and Mrs. Flint, wife of Dr. Flint, U. S. N., also a sisted the hostess in receiving. Singularly enough every one of the bridesmalds are still living, but owing to the distances of their various homes from Washington their presence here list evening was found to be impossible, greatly set that here desired by Mrs. Mander. was found to be impossible, greatly as it had been desired by Mrs. Manderson. The clergyman who performed the marriage service for the Senator and his wife has been dead for a number of years. Among the guests who came from a distance were Mrs. C. C. in the attendance at the reception. Prominent among the charming social events which have marked the present week was the tea given by Dr. and Mrs. S. O. Richey Monday afternoon, when for the first time in many years the old Blair homestead was thrown open for an entertainment. The company which thronged the house was composed almost exclusively of the resident society of the city, and it was with pleasure that one noted in a tour of the rooms here and there familiar faces of that elder set which of late years have taken so small a part in the gay life of Washington. The parlors were decorated with Easter lilies and ighted with numerous handsome lamps Mrs. Richey wore a gown of black velvet with full vest of white silk, and was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Admiral Lee and Miss Letitia McKean. Miss lennic Lowry and Mrs. Janin presided in the tea room.

According to the European papers American society is shortly to have an addition in the person of Viscount Deerhurst, eldest son of the Earl of Coventry. The Viscount, who is only 25 years of age, is in financial troubles, and has been advised to come to Amer tea on an heiress hunt. As a dashing young Heutenant and a prospective Earl, the young man lived beyond his income, until suddenly he was brought up with a round turn by finding him-self in the Bankruptcy Court with lia-bilities of £25,139 sterling, and assets £559. The family estate is extensive and valuable, but heavily mortgaged, as an offset to which all American aspirants for the Viscount's hand will assured that the title is warranted 200 years old.

Will she be included in the list of 400 is the question which New Haven society is asking in regard to the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Ingersoll of that city. The young lady, who is not yet a week old, is the grand niece of Mr. Ward McAllister. Mr. and Mrs. Colin M. Ingersoll were at the Hamilton House when the news arrived of their grandchild's advent and left at once for New Haven.

Successful Experiment at the Corcoran Gallery Last Night.

The opening of the Corcoran Art Gallery last night and the exhibition of the pictures and statuary in a flood of electric light was a pronounced success and will probably be continued. The register at the door showed that 2,600 persons took advantage of the opportunity to visit the gallery.

A recent addition to the paintings, "In the Hands of the Enemy," representing a wounded Confederate soldier SUGGESTIONS FOR THE SEASON.

[Medical Journal.] Be specially careful of draughts and sudlen changes.

Do not overwork. Of what use is wealth without health?

Keep your feet dry, but do not wear wershoes all the time. Remember that the pores of your skin, then in health, are always open, and that closing them causes sickness.

Dress warmly, but not heavily. Woolen clothing that permits the exhalations of the body to escape, is the best.

Eat strengthening and hearty, but not too much greasy food. It is a mistake to suppose that fat food contains the most vitality.

If you feel chilly at any time, take a drink of pure whiskey at once. Duffy's Pure Malt is the purest and best and has the highest recommendations.

Do not call the Doctor for every slight allment. If you have a cold, feel depressed and lack appetite and vigor you need somthing to tone and build up the system. Nothing will do this so readily as the pure article we have mentioned.

Is This What Ails You?

Do you have dull, heavy headache, obstructions of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery and acrid, at others thick, tenacions, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid: eyes weak, watery and indiamed; ringing in the ears, deafness, hacking or coughing to clear the throat, expectoration of offensive matter, together with scabs from nicers; voice changed and nasal twang; breath offensive; smell and taste impaired; is there a sensation of dizziness, with mental depression, a hacking cough and general debility? If you have all, or any considerable number of these symptoms, you are suffering from Nasal Catarrh. Is This What Ails You? any considerable number of these symptoms, you are suffering from Nasal Catarrh. The more complicated your disease has become, the greater the number and diversity of symptoms. Thousands of cases almually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, result in consumption and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive and dangerous, or less understood, or more unsuccessfully treated by physicians. The manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy offer, in good faith, a reward of $500 for a case of this disease which they cannot cure. The Remedy is sold by druggists, at only lifty cents.

GOSSIP ABOUT WASHINGTON'S NEW BASEBALL TEAM.

Arrangements for the McMillan-North ridge Prize Fight Completed-Jos Fielden's Benefit Other "Scraps" -News of the Sporting World, The weather clerk was a little more obliging than usual in the distribution of his favors, and so the Washingtons had an opportunity to play a practice game, much to the delight of the 700 spectators who witnessed it. The Cuban Giants were the opposing team, and, aithough the local boys had an easy time in defeating the visitors, the game was rendered enjoyable by the unique coaching of the colored club. There was a number of good plays made on both sides, Bader especially distinguishing himself by an excellent running catch. McCoy was given his first turn in the points and acquitted himself very creditably. He seems to have good command of the ball, but apparently lacks speed, which he attributes to his injured leg, claiming he cannot use his body effectively in pitch-

The Alerts, the former amateur champions of the District, will play at Atlantic Park, and the game will doubtless be well attended by the friends of the amateurs, who want to see what kind of a showing the boys will make against the professionals. against the professionals. Mace will pitch for the Washingtons.

Hill injured himself quite severely in yesterday's game, and the result was decidedly peculiar. He ran into the third baseman and was badly stunned. He played the following inning, but for several hours was in a dazed condition. He could not remember how he was in-jured, nor did he know anything that occurred afterward, and played merely mechanically. There must have been some shock to the nervous system to produce such a result, which is some what similar to what a man experiences when he is knocked out in a fight, although not so aggravated as in Hill'

The local team has had but two oc casions on which to practice during the week, but in both games they gave every evidence of a rapidly developing lot of team workers. It seems to be the general opinion that the team is a great deal stronger than last year's team, and that if it is kept together it will make its mark. There are men on it undoubtedly who are destined to become stars of the highest order, and whose services at no very distant day will com-mand large salaries. The work of getting such a team together reflects great of Manager Sullivan and is one of the best arguments the League can use in its bid for the patronage of the public. If Washington could replace its old team by one greatly superior, the other clubs who lost players by the defection of the Brotherhood members can do the same

Kearney, jr., Benny Williams and Dr. Cattanach, says Truth, who love to argue out this boxing problem with me every time we meet, all admit that no matter how many points one boxer may lead another, one blow—if it is a knock-out—more than evens matters. I cannot but think the time is not far off when they will consider a man nearly knocked out at the finish if beaten by the man he outtapped at the start. One blow from Australian Billy Murphy was more effective than fifty from Spider Weir, and the Spider wasn't a mere tapper by any means. I once boxed with Walter De Baum, the ex-amateur. He hurt me, and when I got in on his ribs once or twice his fusilade ceased. A tapper must be able to keep a heavierhitting opponent off by propping him as he comes in or getting away. Dempsey's clever work was thrown away on the Marine's sturdy bulwarks, for the Canadian's terrible hitting power made up in one terrible smash the Nonpareil's long lead of points. Endurance is a quality the same as skill. In boxing La Blanche I knew there was but one thing to do—to keep him off by hitting him just as he comes in. This worked well enough for four rounds at a time.

But Dempsey did a great deal more, and then got licked. The final arrangements for the Mc-Millan Northridge fight were completed yesterday. The last deposit of the stake money was posted and the final stakeholder selected. The fight will
